Supporting smoother transitions for young adults living with life-threatening or life-limiting illness is becoming increasingly important for all health, social and education practitioners. In response to this The Prince & Princess of Wales Hospice invites you to be part of the dialogue on improving transitions through networking; greater understanding of each other's professional roles and an opportunity to work collaboratively together for the benefit of young adults and their families.

In partnership with the Village Storytelling Centre, and supported by Scottish Transitions Forum and CHAS, we present an innovative half-day workshop which uses applied storytelling techniques to examine ways of supporting these transitions. This workshop is open to all health, social and education professionals involved in caring for young adults with a life-threatening or life-limiting illness.

January 26, 2017: registration 12.45pm, workshop 1-4.30pm (tea and coffee provided).
Scottish Youth Theatre, Gold room, 105 Brunswick St, Glasgow G1 1TF

Although this is a free event, places are limited and demand is likely to be high so early booking is advised.
